We decided to go now, because many schools are back in session. We had a place for ourselves, which I really preferred. The tracks are wide enough to pass, but I felt safer not to worry about it. We went on a contract of work, right after the opening, we got a small discount, which was excellent. I decided to drive round with them, it's a workout to have to control the cars. After I got a hang of it, I took advantage of the corners at faster speeds. The only advice is to go when it is cooler, in the area where the carts have no air conditioning, so it is a little suffocating. Also have a laser mark and put. My kids did it again with the camp, and they said it was a lot of fun....
